SHIP SUNK
IN BATTLE*Running Naval Fight in North Sea.*BRITISH SQUADRON SUSTAINS DAMAGE*Two Other Teutonic Cruisers Are Badly Battered.

London, Jan. 25.—An attempt by a German cruiser squadron to repeat the attack recently made on Scarborough, the Hartlepool and other British coast towns was frustrated by the British patrolling squadron and in a running fight in the North sea the German armored cruiser Bluecher was sunk and two German battle cruisers were seriously damaged.

The British ships suffered only slight injury. So far as is known only 123 of the Bluecher's crew of 885 were saved.

A battle also occurred between the light cruisers and destroyers accompanying the bigger ships, but the result of this engagement has not yet reached the admiralty.

The British were superior in ships engaged, weight of armament and speed and the flight of the German ships into the mine and submarine infested field possible saved them from further losses.

Cruiser Bluecher 15,550 Tons.

The Bluecher was a cruiser of 15,550 tons displacement and, although commissioned in 1908, was completely re-rigged last year. She was not classed as a battle cruiser, but was in the next class to those formidable fighters.

With her were the Derfflinger, Germany's latest battle cruiser which had just left the builders' hands, and the battle cruisers Seydlitz and Moltke, the latter a sister ship of the Goeben, formerly of the German navy, but now of the Turkish fleet, which recently was reported damaged by the Russians in the Black sea.

The British squadron, commanded by Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, who also was in command at the battle off Heligoland last August, consisted of the battle-cruisers Tiger, Lion, Princess Royal, New Zealand and Indomitable.

The first three of these cruisers mount eight 13.5-inch guns each and even the New Zealand and Indomitable carry 13-inch guns, which are equal to those of the Derfflinger, the only one of the German ships that had better than 11-inch guns.

Official Report of Battle.

The official report issued by the press bureau gives the following account of the engagement:

"Early Sunday morning a British patrolling squadron of battle cruisers and light cruisers, under Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, with a destroyer flotilla, under Commodore Tyrwhitt, sighted four German battle cruisers, several light cruisers and a number of destroyers steering westward and apparently making for the English coast.

"The enemy at once aimed for home at high speed. They were at once pursued and at about 9:30 a. m. action was joined between the battle cruisers Lion, Tiger, Princess Royal, New Zealand and Indomitable, on the one hand, and the Derfflinger, Seydlitz, Moltke and Bluecher on the other. A well contested running fight ensued. Shortly after 1 p. m. the Bluecher, which had previously fallen out of line, capsized and sank.

"Admiral Beatty reports that two other battle cruisers were seriously damaged. They were, however, able to continue their flight and reached an area where dangers from German submarines and mines prevented further pursuit.

No British Ships Lost.

"No British ships have been lost and our casualties in personnel are at present slight, the Lion, which led the line, having only eleven wounded and none killed.

"One hundred and twenty-three survivors have been rescued from the Bluecher's crew of 885 and it is possible that others have been saved by some of our destroyers. No reports of any destroyer or light cruiser fighting have yet been received at the admiralty, though some apparently have been taken place.

"Their lordships have expressed their satisfaction to Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty."

SIR DAVID BEATTY.Commands Fleet Which Sinks German Cruiser.

In leaving the naval base at Cuxhaven, protected by the big guns of Heligoland the German squadron apparently took the most direct route to reach the open waters of the North sea. They passed between the Holland coast and Heligoland, probably close to the Dutch coast.

Vice Admiral Beatty's squadron, patrolling that section of the North sea, which is the most dangerous because of the mine fields, sighted the Germans soon after daylight, according to dispatches received here, and started in pursuit. That it was a long pursuit even before the British battle cruisers got into range with their thirteen and a half inch guns is shown by the fact that they did not open fire until 9:30 a. m.

Germans Crowd on Steam.

It was a rear end fight, with the Germans crowding on every ounce of steam in their flight for the mine protected fields. As they ran they kept their rear batteries pumping shells at their bull dog pursuers. But, apparently, they could not reach their marks. The British remained back far enough to keep out of range of the Germans' 12-inch guns and close enough to make the shells from their own 15.5-inch guns effective.

It was 1 p. m. before the Bluecher, which had been hammered and pounded so severely by the British fire that she could not keep up with her companions, rolled and sank.

The Bluecher was an armored cruiser 489 feet long and displaced 15,550 tons. Her complement was 885 officers and men. She was built at Kiel in 1908 at a cost of $6,500,000. Her speed was a little more than 26 knots an hour.

The Bluecher carried twelve 8.2-inch, eight 6-inch guns and sixteen 24-pounders. She also was equipped with three torpedo tubes.

The Germans were observed some time after dawn proceeding in the direction of the British coast. When they sighted the superior British fleet they turned and made at full speed for home and it was only after a stern chase that the faster British ships got within range. For more than four hours the running battle lasted, the firing being plainly heard in North Holland, where it was judged the fight took place north of the islands of Ameland and Schiermonnikoog.

Succumbs to Heavy Guns.

The Bluecher, which was slower than the other German cruisers, fell behind and succumbed to the heavier guns of the Lion, which was leading the British squadron. The other German ships got within the mine and submarine area, two of them in a badly damaged condition, and it was dangerous for the big battle cruisers to attempt to follow.

The fact that only eleven men were wounded aboard the Lion, which led the line, indicates that the British casualties were light. It is possible that more of the Bluecher's crew were picked up by the British destroyers.

All the vessels named by the British official press bureau as having taken part in the naval engagement, except the Bluecher, are battle cruisers, all heavily armed and capable of great speed.

Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, who was in command of the British forces in this fight, also commanded the same battle cruiser squadron in the engagement off Heligoland August 28 last and in which three German light cruisers and two German torpedo boat destroyers were sunk.

The cruisers were the Mainz, Ariadne and Kleins.

LIVERPOOL DOCK SWAMPED

Hint Given Government to Expedite Clearance of Cargoes.

Liverpool, Jan. 25.—Imports of foodstuffs, raw materials and other commodities at Liverpool continue on an unprecedented scale. The congestion already acute, has been accentuated by the arrival of twenty-one more cargo vessels from various parts of the world.

Shipping, dock and railway interests in turn assert they are doing their best to relieve the situation and clear the cargoes as rapidly as possible. A suggestion is made that the government could relieve the situation somewhat by expediting the clearance of prize cargoes and shipments of sugar and nitrate arriving to their orders as the latter are said to have priority over others.

Some vessels are said to have been lying in the river a fortnight, waiting to be unloaded.

STATE SUES FOR MILLION

Asserts That Power Company's Dam Has Backed Up Water.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 25.—Charged with having devastated large tracts of rich agricultural land and having submerged valuable timber by reason of having constructed a dam across the Rainy river in Koochiching county, the state of Minnesota seeks to collect $1,000,000 damages from the Minnesota and Ontario Power company of International Falls, of which E. W. Backus is the head.

Other suits brought by individuals for damages for overflows caused by the same dam are to be tried and the total amount demanded aggregates many thousands of dollars, in addition to the state's million dollar suit.

The state's suit is brought by Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general, and the complaint is signed by him and his assistant, Clifford L. Hilton. The suits brought by individuals are given precedence over the state's case, which will not get into court at the present term at International Falls.

VERY HARD FIGHTING*Battles Rage in Alsace and Argonne.*ARTILLERY IN ACTION*No Decisive Results Are Apparent in Poland.

London, Jan. 25.—So far as the west is concerned the land fighting has again been confined largely to artillery engagements, which have been almost continuous from the sea to the Swiss frontier.

All arms, however, are still engaged in the Argonne, where trenches have been lost and retaken several times within two days and in Alsace, where both sides are putting forth vast efforts.

In Poland decisive results are just as lacking as in France, but there are expectations that Russia's new offensive to the north of the lower Vistula will bring about a change in the character of the operations. It is believed it will certainly tax Germany's resources just at the moment when she is called upon to send additional troops to assist in opposing Russia's threatened invasion of Hungary and the menace arising from the possibility of Roumania taking a hand in the war.

It is unofficially reported from Vienna that the Austrians have checked the Russian advance in Southern Bukovina, which, if true, points to the arrival there of fresh Austro-German forces.

Germany, it is said, although she has not delivered a note to Roumania, has several times inquired from that country the meaning of her mobilization and preparation for war, which should soon bring the matter to a head.

There are all sorts of reports, chiefly from Rome, of political changes in Austria-Hungary. It is said that Germany has taken entire charge of the military affairs of the monarchy, while the Hungarians, under the guidance of the premier, Count Tisza, who is complete master of the situation, are in control of political affairs under an arrangement made between the Germans and the Hungarians.

It is reported further that German troops will be sent to Hungary instead of into Serbia, as originally intended, and that Austrian troops will replace them in France.

FIRE DISPERSES INFANTRY

French War Office Reports Artillery Very Effective.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The official statement issued by the French war office said:

"In the region of Neuport and Lombardie the enemy, by a violent bombardment of new positions captured by us, prepared for an attack which he has not been able to carry out. Our artillery in fact dispersed gatherings of infantry which, with fixed bayonets, were preparing to make the assault.

"Near Rutoire (in the neighborhood of Vermeilles) our artillery has compelled the enemy to evacuate an advanced trench.

"In the valley of the Aisne our batteries have reduced to silence, or demolished, several of the German guns; they also have compelled the enemy's airplanes to make a detour and destroyed entrenchments near Soupir and Heurtebise. Near Berry-au-Bac (hill 108) our infantry has taken a trench."

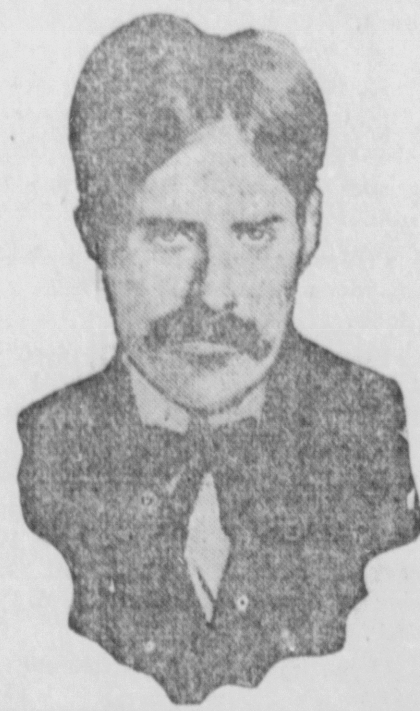

TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING

Immense Terminal Market Will Be Built in New York City.

New York, Jan. 25.—A great market terminal, costing $1,000,000, the first of a dozen or more planned for receiving and distributing foodstuffs in New York city, to reduce the cost of living, will be erected here by the New York Central Railroad company. The project was announced by John J. Dillon, commissioner of the new state department of foods and markets.

Under Commissioner Dillon's plan this and other similar market terminals will be leased by co-operative companies organized and conducted under rules laid down by his department. The profits of these companies will be limited to 6 per cent a year.

This first terminal will cover a whole city block. Trainloads of perishable farm products will enter there and discharge their cargoes directly into distributing wagons.

New York, Jan. 25.—Harry K. Thaw is again in the Tombs. Brought here from Boston, his only stopover on the way from New Hampshire, he was locked up in the prison which he left almost seven years ago, when he was committed to the state asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan, following his acquittal of the murder of Stanford White on the ground of insanity.

He will be arraigned to plead to the indictment charging conspiracy, based on his sensational escape from Matteawan seventeen months ago.

When the train drew into the station and Thaw, accompanied by Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county and two detectives, stepped to the platform the prisoner was besieged by newspaper men. He greeted them genially, but refused to discuss plans. William T. Jerome, special counsel for the state; Deputy Attorney General Kennedy and a state detective arrived on the same train.

DEFENSE OF NEUTRALITY*Government Issues a Long Document.*ANSWERS AN INQUIRY*Belligerents Must Keep an Eye Open for Contraband.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The United States government issued a lengthy defense of its interpretation of the rights and duties of a neutral in the European war.

A document, 5,000 words long, prepared by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Counselor Robert Lansing of the state department after several days of consultation, was made public in the form of a letter from the secretary of state to Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations.

While the letter is a reply to an inquiry from Senator Stone for information as a result of complaints made in the press and in letters from various parts of the country charging the Washington government with unfairness to Germany and Austria it also is intended as a pronouncement of policy of some questions of neutrality previously unexplained.

After answering nineteen separate and specific charges and calling attention to the fact that the United States has promptly taken to task Great Britain as well as Germany and every government which in any way infringed on the rights of this country the letter concludes with the following declaration on the much discussed question of exportation of war munitions.

Declaration on Contraband.

"If any American citizens, partisans of Germany and Austria-Hungary, feel that this administration is acting in a way injurious to the cause of those countries, this feeling results from the fact that on the high seas the German and Austro-Hungarian naval power is thus far inferior to the British.

"It is the business of a belligerent operating on the high seas, not the duty of a neutral, to prevent contraband from reaching an enemy.

"Those in this country who sympathize with Germany and Austria-Hungary appear to assume that some obligation rests on this government, in the performance of its neutral duty, to prevent all trade in contraband and thus to equalize the difference due to the relative naval strength of the belligerents.

"No such obligation exists; it would be an unequal act, an act of partiality on the part of this government, to adopt such a policy, if the executive had the power to do so.

"If Germany and Austria-Hungary cannot import contraband from this country it is not, because of this fact, the duty of the United States to close its markets to the allies. The markets of this country are open on equal terms to all the world, to every nation, belligerent or neutral."

ALLIES DRIVEN BACK

Heavy German Artillery Fire Routs the Enemy.

Havre, Jan. 25.—The Germans have resumed a strong offensive on their front near the sea, especially directing their efforts to St. Georges, to the southeast of Neuport, which was captured by the allies shortly after Christmas.

The enemy directed such a heavy artillery fire on the village that the allies were compelled to fall back.

The Germans have not succeeded in entering the place, which now remains unoccupied and neutral ground between the two lines.

STATE SUES FOR MILLION

Asserts That Power Company's Dam Has Backed Up Water.

Beaumont, Minn., Jan. 25.—Charged with having devastated large tracts of rich agricultural land and having submerged valuable timber by reason of having constructed a dam across the Rainy river in Koochiching county, the state of Minnesota seeks to collect $1,000,000 damages from the Minnesota and Ontario Power company of International Falls, of which E. W. Backus is the head.

Other suits brought by individuals for damages for overflows caused by the same dam are to be tried and the total amount demanded aggregates many thousand dollars, in addition to the state's million dollar suit.

The state's suit is brought by Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general, and the complaint is signed by him and his assistant, Clifford L. Hilton. The suits brought by individuals are given precedence over the state's case, which will not get into court at the present term at International Falls.

VERY HARD FIGHTING

Battles Rage in Alsace and Argonne.

ARTILLERY IN ACTION

No Decisive Results Are Apparent in Poland.

London, Jan. 25.—So far as the west is concerned the land fighting has again been confined largely to artillery engagements, which have been almost continuous from the sea to the Swiss frontier.

All arms, however, are still engaged in the Argonne, where trenches have been lost and retaken several times within two days and in Alsace, where both sides are putting forth vast efforts.

In Poland decisive results are just as lacking as in France, but there are expectations that Russia's new offensive to the north of the lower Vistula will bring about a change in the character of the operations. It is believed it will certainly tax Germany's resources just at the moment when she is called upon to send additional troops to assist in opposing Russia's threatened invasion of Hungary and the menace arising from the possibility of Roumania taking a hand in the war.

It is unofficially reported from Vienna that the Austrians have checked the Russian advance in Southern Bukovina, which, if true, points to the arrival there of fresh Austro-German forces.

Germany, it is said, although she has not delivered a note to Roumania, has several times inquired from that country the meaning of her mobilization and preparation for war, which should soon bring the matter to a head.

There are all sorts of reports, chiefly from Rome, of political changes in Austria-Hungary. It is said that Germany has taken entire charge of the military affairs of the monarchy, while the Hungarians, under the guidance of the premier, Count Tisza, who is complete master of the situation, are in control of political affairs under an arrangement made between the Germans and the Hungarians.

It is reported further that German troops will be sent to Hungary instead of into Serbia, as originally intended, and that Austrian troops will replace them in France.

FIRE DISPERSES INFANTRY

French War Office Reports Artillery Very Effective.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The official statement issued by the French war office said:

"In the region of Neuport and Lombardie the enemy, by a violent bombardment of new positions captured by us, prepared for an attack which he has not been able to carry out. Our artillery in fact dispersed gatherings of infantry which, with fixed bayonets, were preparing to make the assault.

"Near Rutoire (in the neighborhood of Vornelles) our artillery has compelled the enemy to evacuate an advanced trench.

"In the valley of the Aisne our batteries have reduced to silence, or demolished, several of the German guns; they also have compelled the enemy's airships to make a detour, and destroyed entrenchments near Soupir and Heurtebise. Near Berry-au-Bac (hill 108) our infantry has taken a trench."

TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING

Immense Terminal Market Will Be Built in New York City.

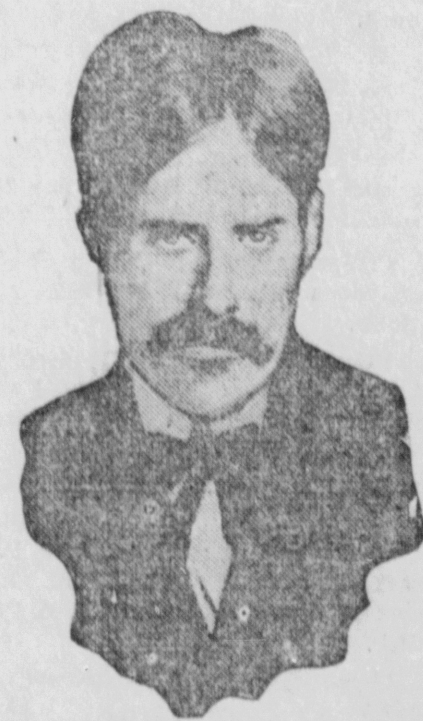

New York, Jan. 25.—A great market terminal, costing $1,000,000, the first of a dozen or more planned for receiving and distributing foodstuffs in New York city, to reduce the cost of living, will be erected here by the New York Central Railroad company. The project was announced by John J. Dillon, commissioner of the new state department of foods and markets.

Under Commissioner Dillon's plan this and other similar market terminals will be leased by co-operative companies organized and conducted under rules laid down by his department. The profits of these companies will be limited to 6 per cent a year.

This first terminal will cover a whole city block. Trainloads of perishable farm products will enter there and discharge their cargoes directly into distributing wagons.

FERDINAND P. EARLE.

Artist Granted Divorce From His Third Wife.

ARTIST EARLE AGAIN FREE

Is Granted Divorce From His Third Wife.

New York, Jan. 25.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle, famous on two continents for his love affairs, again is clear of the bonds of matrimony and free to marry his latest "affinity," Miss Charlotte Herman of Rutherford, N. J. Earle and Miss Herman are occupying an expensive cottage at Allenhurst, N. J., with their six-months-old baby.

An interlocutory decree of absolute divorce was granted the artist's third wife, formerly Helen Theodora Earle, of Oxford, England, by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins of Nyack, N. Y. Alimony of $100 per month and counsel fees of $500 were allowed Mrs. Earle. She is also awarded the custody of their two children.

The marriage took place at Oxford, England, on June 15, 1911, and the divorce was filed Nov. 30, 1914. Mrs. Earle is now in England.

HARRY THAW AGAIN IN NEW YORK JAIL

Will Be Arraigned on Charge of Conspiracy.

New York, Jan. 25.—Harry K. Thaw is again in the Tombs. Brought here from Boston, his only stopover on the way from New Hampshire, he was locked up in the prison which he left almost seven years ago, when he was committed to the state asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan, following his acquittal of the murder of Stanford White on the ground of insanity.

He will be arraigned to plead to the indictment charging conspiracy, based on his sensational escape from Matteawan seventeen months ago.

When the train drew into the station and Thaw, accompanied by Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county and two detectives, stepped to the platform the prisoner was besieged by newspaper men. He greeted them genially, but refused to discuss plans. William T. Jerome, special counsel for the state; Deputy Attorney General Kennedy and a state detective arrived on the same train.

TWO KILLED WHEN CAR STRIKES AUTO.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Alfred Sorenson and Albert Segman were killed when the automobile in which they were riding was caught between two street cars going in opposite directions. Occupants of both street cars were injured.

AFRICAN REBELS DEFEATED

Twelve Hundred Beaten Off in Attack on Uptington.

Pretoria, Jan. 25.—It is officially announced that 1,200 rebels with four guns, under their leaders, Lieutenant Colonel Maritz and Kemp, attacked Uptington, Bechuanaland.

The rebels were repulsed, leaving behind twelve dead, twenty-three wounded and ninety-six prisoners.

The Union of South Africa forces lost three men killed and twenty-two wounded.

Portuguese Ministry Resigns.

Lisbon, Jan. 25.—The Portuguese ministry, of which Victor Hugo A. Coutinho was premier, has resigned.

DEFENSE OF NEUTRALITY

Government Issues a Long Document.

ANSWERS AN INQUIRY

Belligerents Must Keep an Eye Open for Contraband.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The United States government issued a lengthy defense of its interpretation of the rights and duties of a neutral in the European war.

A document, 5,000 words long, prepared by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Counselor Robert Lansing of the state department after several days of consultation, was made public in the form of a letter from the secretary of state to Senator Stone of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations.

While the letter is a reply to an inquiry from Senator Stone for information as a result of complaints made in the press and in letters from various parts of the country charging the Washington government with unfairness to Germany and Austria it also is intended as a pronouncement of policy of some questions of neutrality previously unexplained.

After answering nineteen separate and specific charges and calling attention to the fact that the United States has promptly taken to task Great Britain as well as Germany and every government which in any way infringed on the rights of this country the letter concludes with the following declaration on the much discussed question of exportation of war munitions.

Declaration on Contraband.

"If any American citizens, partisans of Germany and Austria-Hungary, feel that this administration is acting in a way injurious to the cause of those countries, this feeling results from the fact that on the high seas the German and Austro-Hungarian naval power is thus far inferior to the British.

"It is the business of a belligerent operating on the high seas, not the duty of a neutral, to prevent contraband from reaching an enemy.

"Those in this country who sympathize with Germany and Austria-Hungary appear to assume that some obligation rests on this government, in the performance of its neutral duty, to prevent all trade in contraband and thus to equalize the difference due to the relative naval strength of the belligerents.

"No such obligation exists; it would be an unneutral act, an act of partiality on the part of this government, to adopt such a policy, if the executive had the power to do so.

SEVERAL FIREMEN INJURED

Flames Entail Loss of $250,000 at Rapid City, S. D.

Rapid City, S. D., Jan. 25.—Several firemen were injured and property valued at $250,000 was damaged by a fire here which destroyed the John C. Haines company department store, the Cass Pennington County Bank building and the Farlow block.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

ALLIES DRIVEN BACK FROM ST. GEORGES

Heavy German Artillery Fire Routs the Enemy.

Havre, Jan. 25.—The Germans have resumed a strong offensive on their front near the sea, especially directing their efforts to St. Georges, to the southeast of Neuport, which was captured by the allies shortly after Christmas.

The enemy directed such a heavy artillery fire on the village that the allies were compelled to fall back.

The Germans have not succeeded in entering the place, which now remains unoccupied and neutral ground between the two lines.

FOR RURAL CARRIER

Examination at Brainerd Feb. 27 to Fill a Vacancy at Pequot, the Requirements

An examination for rural carrier will be held at the Brainerd post-office February 27 to fill the vacancy
at Pequot.
The United States civil service commission announces an open competitive examination on the date and at the examination place named above, as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill the vacancy in the position of rural carrier at the place named above and other vacancies as they may occur on rural routes at postoffices in the above-named county, unless it is found to be in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement, transfer, or promotion. The compensation of a rural carrier is based upon the length of the route and ranges from $484 to $1,200 per year.
Age, 18 to 55, on the date of examination. The maximum age is waived in cases of persons honorably discharged from the United States military or naval service.
An application must have his actual domicile in the territory supplied by a post office in the county for which the examination is announced.
The examination is open to all male citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.
Application Form 1341, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination, can be secured from the secretary of the local examining board or the postmaster at any of the examination points named above, or from the United States Civil service commission, Washington, D.
C.
Applications should be properly executed and filed with the commission at Washington. As examination papers are shipped direct from the commission to the places of examination, it is necessary that applications be received in ample time to arrange for the examination desired at the place indicated by the applicant. The commission will therefore arrange to examine any applicant whose application is received in time to permit the shipment of the necessary papers.
An eligible register for the position of rural letter carrier for each county will be maintained. A person must be examined for the county in which the post office that supplies his home is situated. As a result of such examination he may become eligible to appointment as rural carrier at any post office in such county. A rural letter carrier after one year's satisfactory service may be transferred to the position of clerk or carrier in a first or second class post office, in the position of railway mail clerk, or to other positions in the classified service, subject to such examination as may be required by the civil-service rules.

FOR RURAL CARRIER

Examination at Brainerd Feb. 27 to Fill a Vacancy at Pequot, the Requirements

An examination for rural carrier
will be held at the Brainerd postoffice February 27 to fill the vacancy
at Pequot.

The United States civil service commission announces an open competitive examination on the date and at the examination place named above,
as a result of which it is expected to make certification to fill the vacancy
in the position of rural carrier at the place named above and other vacancies as they may occur on rural routes
at postoffices in the above-named county, unless it is found to be in the interest of the service to fill any vacancy by reinstatement, transfer, or promotion. The compensation of a rural carrier is based upon the length of the route and ranges from $484 to $1,200 per year.

Age, 18 to 55, on the date of examination. The maximum age is waived in cases of persons honorably discharged from the United States
military or naval service.

An application must have his actual domicile in the territory supplied by a post office in the county for which the examination is announced.

The examination is open to all male citizens of the United States who can comply with the requirements.

Application Form 1341, and full information concerning the requirements of the examination, can be secured from the secretary of the local examining board or the postmaster at any of the examination points named above, or from the United States Civil service commission, Washington, D.
C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the commission
at Washington. As examination papers are shipped direct from the commission to the places of examination,
it is necessary that applications be received in ample time to arrange for the examination desired at the place
indicated by the applicant. The commission will therefore arrange to examine any applicant whose application is received in time to permit the shipment of the necessary papers.

An eligible register for the position
of rural letter carrier for each county will be maintained. A person must be examined for the county in which the post office that supplies his home is situated. As a result of such examination he may become eligible to appointment as rural carrier at any post office in such county. A rural letter carrier after one year's satisfactory service may be transferred to the position of clerk or carrier in a first or second class post office, in the position of railway mail clerk, or to other positions in the classified service, subject to such examination as may be required by the civil-service rules.

"OBEY" IN MARRIAGE.

OMISSION OF THIS WORD FROM SERVICE GRAVELY DISCUSSED BY CLERGYMEN.

The Matter Was Before a Convocation of High Officials of the Church of England.

PRESENT FORM.

Wilt thou obey him, serve him, love, honor and keep him? In sickness and in health, to love, cherish and obey.

PROPOSED FORM.

Wilt thou love him, comfort him, and honor and keep him? In sickness and in health to love and to cherish.

The omission of the word "obey" from the marriage service and to alter the wording as in these forms was the subject for a grave discussion among high officials of the Church of England at the recent convocation of Canterbury. So widespread has become sentiment for the recognition of real equality and partnership between husband and wife that the bishop of Lincoln has announced that he would move such an amendment.

Although the amendment was never introduced to be acted upon, it served to stir up a discussion which showed the difference of opinion as expressed to be not so much on the merits of the amendment as on its classification as a rubrical question. When the subject was reached the bishop of Lincoln moved to withdraw the amendment, saying that he had not changed his opinion, but that he did not believe it could carry on that occasion.

The archbishop of Canterbury said it was more desirable that such a question should be raised on another occasion than on the revision of the rubrics.

"We are face to face, beyond question and doubt," he added, "with discussions upon the whole subject of which this is a part, both in the church and in the state, at no distant date, and I venture to believe that other opportunities more suitable than the present will arise for handling questions of this far-reaching and quite other than liturgical character."

The whole expression of opinion by different bishops was that the question must be settled, and those who committed themselves favored a recognition of equality. The bishop of Winchester said that it was with regret that he saw the word "obey" continue to stand in the form of service. The bishop of Hereford declared that some change should be made which would make the undertakings and responsibilities of both persons to a greater extent the same.

HOMESTEAD ORGANIZED

Lodge of Brotherhood of American Yeomen at Hackensack Elects Officers January 23

On Saturday evening, January 23, a homestead consisting of twenty members of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen lodge, was organized at Hackensack by Deputy Allie Gaffney and District Manager Thiel, assisted by Archer Louis Berggreen of Brainerd Homestead No. 602. The name of the new homestead at Hackensack will be Birch Lake Homestead No. 4987.

The following named officers were elected and installed:

Foreman—Chas. Wood. Master of Ceremonies—Roy Quick. Correspondent—A. P. Wood. Master of Accounts—Chester Garrity.

Chaplain—Mary Wood. Lady Rebecca—Iva Garrity. Lady Rowena—Mary Wood. Overseer—Carl Berggreen. Guard—Willie Garrity. Watchman—Abbie Gallup. Sentinel—Harry Hauer.

After the meeting a dainty lunch was served at the home of Archers Wood and Gallup, after which many of the Archers attended a dance given by the Boosters club of Hackensack. The next meeting of Birch Lake Homestead will be held Saturday evening, January 30, when this enterprising homestead expects to take in a number of new candidates.

Travel Club Tonight

The Travel club will meet this evening at the residence of Mrs. T. E. Jones, 401 North Broadway, at 8 o'clock. The following papers will be given: "The Lakes of Northern Minnesota," by Rev. W. J. Lowrie; "The Island of Catalina," by Miss Blanche Doerr.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

"The Human Wolves" will again be run tonight. With it may be seen the baby show, which will be a real treat. Tomorrow watch for the big sensation. Don't forget that Thursday and Friday the greatest six reel drama ever made comes to this theatre known as "The Etain."

Empress Theatre

The Sunday program at the Empress was another unusually good bill. "Barrier of Flames," a two part drama in which Shep, the great Tanager dog, is featured, is a splendid photo play. Shep displays wonderful intelligence and saves his play mate by leading the firemen to her. "Bepo," an Italian drama, is another reel of merit. "Cupid and a Dress Coat," a good comedy. This same show will be shown tonight. The management of the Empress theatre is going to have a pay day on next Monday, February 1st. Each and every person attending on that night will receive a pay envelope. During the week coupon tickets will be issued and the holder of three coupon tickets will be admitted free next Monday evening and will be given a pay envelope. This is a big surprise for everybody.

At the Grand

"Master Key," tonight and Tuesday. This installment is in Chinatown. The catastrophe which eight years ago laid waste the metropolis of the Pacific coast bared dozen of long tunnels leading from one dive to another in the old Chinatown. These tunnels served to recall the many mysterious "disappearances" and murders which had taken place in years past in the yellow light district. It is now reported that the Chinese, who have reconstructed their resorts since the quake, have again built similar underground tunnels to facilitate their escape in case of pursuit by the police. It is in one of these resorts, well known now to the San Francisco police, that the concluding phase of the fifth episode of the "Master Key" is laid.

Hugh Conway's famous novel, "Called Back" for Wednesday and Thursday. A story which has had a tremendous appeal. For his theme he has taken the fight for Italy's freedom and woven around it a beautiful love tale, permeated with mystery and tragedy. This book, "Called Back", with Herbert Rawlinson and Anna Little in leading roles has been read by almost every thinking man and woman in America and Europe. Its universal appeal to people in every walk of life, dealing as it does with life in its very essence, makes it highly profitable for screen adaptation.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

Empress Theatre

The Sunday program at the Empress was another unusually good bill. "Barrier of Flames," a two part drama in which Shep, the great Tannhouser dog, is featured, is a splendid photo play. Shep displays wonderful intelligence and saves his play mate by leading the firemen to her. "Bepo," an Italian drama, is another reel of merit. "Cupid and a Dress Coat," a good comedy. This same show will be shown tonight. The management of the Empress theatre is going to have a pay day on next Monday, February 1st. Each and every person attending on that night will receive a pay envelope. During the week coupon tickets will be issued and the holder of three coupon tickets will be admitted free next Monday evening and will be given a pay envelope. This is a big surprise for everybody.

At the Grand

"Master Key," tonight and Tuesday. This installment is in Chinatown. The catastrophe which eight years ago laid waste the metropolis of the Pacific coast bared dozen of long tunnels leading from one dive to another in the old Chinatown. These tunnels served to recall the many mysterious "disappearances" and murders which had taken place in years past in the yellow light district. It is now reported that the Chinese, who have reconstructed their resorts since the 'quake, have again built similar underground tunnels to facilitate their escape in case of pursuit by the police. It is in one of these resorts, well known now to the San Francisco police, that the concluding phase of the fifth episode of the "Master Key" is laid.

Hugh Conway's famous novel, "Called Back" for Wednesday and Thursday. A story which has had a tremendous appeal. For his theme he has taken the fight for Italy's freedom and woven around it a beautiful love tale, permeated with mystery and tragedy. This book, "Called Back," with Herbert Rawlinson and Anna Little in leading roles has been read by almost every thinking man and woman in America and Europe. Its universal appeal to people in every walk of life, dealing as it does with life in its very essence, makes it highly profitable for screen adaptation.

OMISSION OF THIS WORD FROM SERVICE GRAVELY DISCUSS. ED BY CLERGYMEN.

The Matter Was Before a Convocation of High Officials of the Church of England.

PRESENT FORM.

Wilt thou obey him, serve him, love, honor and keep him?

In sickness and in health, to love, cherish and obey.

PROPOSED FORM.

Wilt thou love him, comfort him, and honor and keep him?

In sickness and in health to love and to cherish.

The omission of the word "obey" from the marriage service and to alter the wording as in these forms was the subject for a grave discussion among high officials of the Church of England at the recent convocation of Canterbury. So widespread has become sentiment for the recognition of real equality and partnership between husband and wife that the bishop of Lincoln has announced that he would move such an amendment.

Although the amendment was never introduced to be acted upon, it served to stir up a discussion which showed the difference of opinion as expressed to be not so much on the merits of the amendment as on its classification as a rubrical question. When the subject was reached the bishop of Lincoln moved to withdraw the amendment, saying that he had not changed his opinion, but that he did not believe it could carry on that occasion.

The archbishop of Canterbury said it was more desirable that such a question should be raised on another occasion than on the revision of the rubrics.

"We are face to face, beyond question and doubt," he added, "with discussions upon the whole subject of which this is a part, both in the church and in the state, at no distant date, and I venture to believe that other opportunities more suitable than the present will arise for handling questions of this far-reaching and quite other than liturgical character."

The whole expression of opinion by different bishops was that the question must soon be settled, and those who committed themselves favored a recognition of equality. The bishop of Winchester said that it was with regret that he saw the word "obey" continue to stand in the form of service. The bishop of Hereford declared that some change should be made which would make the undertakings and responsibilities of both persons to a greater extent the same.

The supreme court has held that a white man can inherit land allotted to his Indian wife, a decision having been made in the case of a white man to a Creek squaw.

Duluth plans on spending $9,000 for oil for street sprinkling during the season of 1915, the commissioner of public works having set this figure in his estimate of expenses. That city spends $30,000 a year on its street sprinkling, oil and water.

The cities that have felt the shrinkage in revenue by the enforcement of the treaty are planning on cutting down expenses and economizing in city affairs. Bemidji is one of them and it is expected a saving of $3,000 annually can be made by reductions in salaries and dispensing with some of the persons on the city pay roll.

Detroit's municipal election on Feb. 6th promises to be a very tame affair on account of the elimination of the liquor question, the government having closed the saloons there according to the provisions of the Indian treaty which takes the question of wet or dry away from the voters, and it has been the scene of many a fierce battle over that question.

The receipts of the Fargo post-office will be swelled by the mailing of eighty car loads of catalogues from mail order houses during the spring months. These price list books are sent out by freight and are handled by a local agent there at a considerable saving in expense, and it is made necessary by the refusal of the newspapers there to accept advertising from catalogue houses. The local merchants in return advertise extensively in the Fargo papers and are enabled to meet the prices offered, everything considered. Eighty car loads of catalogues should carry the news to almost every buying locality in North Dakota, but that quantity is vouchered for by an item in a reliable newspaper.

COLORED PUPIL IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Judge W. S. McClenahan, of District Court, Holds Marry C. Marshall Remediless

IN SUIT AGAINST OFFICERS

Civil Rights Statutes are Specific and Do Not Aim to Dictate to Schools or Churches

Holding the plaintiff Marry C. Marshall, of Aitkin, a colored girl 16 years of age, remediless, in her suit brought against A. L. Richardson, J. M. Tucker, Frances Osterhout and Myrtle Tucker, wherein she charged she was discriminated against while attending Sunday school, claiming she was forced to either sit separate and apart from the white members of such school, or to leave it and the building, Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, has handed down a memorandum wherein he considers the Civil Rights Statutes as they apply to Sunday schools or churches.

Judge McClenahan said: "I think it may be confidently stated that no legislative body has ever specifically included churches, religious societies, or kindred institutions in the so-called Civil Rights Acts. This is not surprising, in view of the peculiar nature of such bodies. For the legislature, or the courts, to undertake to dictate how they shall conduct their internal affairs—the more intimate details of their organization—would meet with just resentment on the part of those affected, and would be of doubtful legality on constitutional grounds.

"The places to which Civil Rights Statutes have been specifically applied are public conveyances upon land and water, hotels, inns, taverns, restaurants, eating houses, chop houses, lunch counters, soda fountains, ice cream parlors, barber shops, saloons, bath houses, theatres, music halls, places of business, for which a license is required, public meetings, etc., such places being, almost without exception, places of business designed for profit and of a public or quasi-public character.

"It needs no argument to demonstrate that public conveyances, theatres, hotels, barber shops, saloons and restaurants, the places specifically enumerated in the present Minnesota statute, are not places of the same kind or species as a Sunday school, so that, under the rule adopted in the Minnesota case of Rhone vs. Loomis, supra, the plaintiff is not within the statute.

"But for the ejusdem generis rule, a Sunday school might have been considered within the old statute as a place of instruction, but no such claim can be made under the present law, since places of instruction are not now within the act. It was not suggested on the argument of the order to show cause that a Sunday school is a place either of amusement, refreshment or entertainment, but it was contended that it is a place of accommodation.

"If true, this would avail the plaintiff nothing, since it could not seriously be claimed that a Sunday school is a place of accommodation of the same kind or species as public conveyances, theatres, hotels, barber shops, saloons, or restaurants, but waiving that, is it a place of accommodation in any sense? It seems clear to me that it is not."

TROOP LIFE IN SAN DIEGO CAMP

Corporal A. C. Falconer, Troop M., First Cavalry, Writes to His Sister in Brainerd

CAVALRY MAKES A NIGHT HIKE

Troopers Were Twelve Hours Fifteen Minutes in Saddle With Only Five Minute Rest

Corporal A. C. Falconer, of Troop M., 1st Cavalry, stationed at San Diego, Cal., in a letter to his sister, Miss Hannah Falconer, of this city, writes entertainingly of camp life. He says:

"We made a night hike of it from Tecate into San Diego and you can take it from Albert C. that it sure was the fiercest short hike that your truly has ever indulged in—twelve hours and fifteen minutes in the saddle with only one five minute rest.

It rained all the time and dark! Say, you could have cut chunks of solid ebony out of the atmosphere. We arrived here about a half hour after sun-up on the morning of Dec. 23 and it certainly was a dreary looking prospect that confronted us when we got here.

The only really cheerful part of the picture was the sight of the Exposition buildings just across the ravine from our camp. And ever since we unsaddled on the morning of the 23rd we have been continually on the jump, laying out tent floors, building kitchens, building stables, grading roads through the camp, clearing brush off the drill grounds, digging ditches in the hardest hard pan that ever was for laying pipe lines and ever now and then laying down our picks and shovels to go and saddle up and turn out for some parade or escort duty.

But our camp is fast assuming the proportions of a model camp in every respect. We have the new model pyramid tents with only five men in a tent. Each tent has a board floor, an electric light and an upright locker for our clothes. Cigarette butts, matches and bits of paper are tabooed from the troop streets, in fact everything about the camp is as neat and nifty as the spar deck of a battle ship and we will soon have running water all through the camp. Just a couple of weeks ago this place was nothing but a 'dobe hill covered with sage brush. Can you beat it

In spite of what the newspapers say about the Exposition they are not doing the business they expected to do. And it seems a shame too, because they really have got a fine exposition. Millions of dollars have been spent putting up the show."

Voting In Spain.

Voting in Spain is held to be a duty to the community, not merely a privilege of the individual, and neglect of civic obligations carries its own penalty. Male adults of legal age and under seventy, with the exception of priests, notaries and judges, are required to vote in municipal elections. Failure to cast a ballot is punishable by having one's name published as censure for neglect, by having taxes increased 2 per cent, by suffering a deduction of 1 per cent in salary if employed in the public service and for the second offense the loss of right to hold elective or appointive office. — Exchange.

Had to Be Amused.

Some time ago a young married woman, accompanied by her two-year-old boy, visited the home of her parents, and in just two days the youngster was in full possession of everything around the house except the shotgun and the cayenne pepper box.

"Bessie dear," appealingly remarked the young married woman one afternoon, addressing her sister, "is your prayer book downstairs?"
"Why, yes," answered Bessie wonderingly. "What do you want it for?"
"I want to know if you won't let baby play with it for awhile," was the startling rejoinder of the other. "He has just torn mamma's all to pieces." — Boston Advertiser.

Improved the Opportunity.
The Empress Eugenie had long entertained Napoleon III. to confer upon Rosa Bonheur the cross of the Legion of Honor. He had refused because he did not wish to found a precedent for bestowing it upon a woman. Being called across the border into Spain, Napoleon made Eugenie regent in his absence, and she, with woman wit, took advantage of her authority to confer the honor upon the great artist. Napoleon laughed on hearing his wife's confession, but the act stood.

THE ADVISORY BOARD TO MEET

Board of Chamber of Commerce Holds First Meeting of the Year at 7:30 Tonight

ARE TO ELECT A SECRETARY

Regular Meeting of the Chamber on Wednesday Evening—Year Book Soon from Press

The first meeting of the year of the advisory board of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 this evening. It is expected that a majority of the 27 members of the board will respond as matters of importance are to be discussed and acted on, among others being the employment of a secretary for the coming year.

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Wednesday evening, January 27. Plans have been laid to welcome a large crowd, as the meetings in the past have led the officers to believe that the interest of the members is growing in the work of the organization, and that this is also true of the social features.

Beginning February 1 a monthly bulletin will be issued by the Chamber and a copy mailed each member and prospective member, outlining the work accomplished in the past 30 days. It will be maintained through ads from members and each will be given an opportunity to purchase space.

The year book of the Chamber of Commerce will be off the press this week and a copy will be mailed to each member which will give the year's work, the financial statement, incorporation and by laws, also a complete list of the present membership and committees and a synopsis of committee reports.

The Pig In Water.

Of pigs it is commonly reported that so queerly fashioned are they that if they attempt to swim they cut their throats with their fore feet, but this is only an old wife's fable. Whether wild or tame, they are all good swimmers, though, owing to the shortness of their legs, they just touch their throats with their fore feet and beat the water very high. Many of the islands of the southern seas are now inhabited by wild pigs, which are the descendants of those which have swum ashore from wrecked vessels. — Pearson's Weekly.

BODY WILL HEAR WILSON

Chamber of Commerce Sets Aside Special Session Feb. 3.

Washington, Jan. 25.—A special business session has been set aside by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for President Wilson's address the evening of Feb. 3.

The first of the three members of the cabinet who are to address the annual meeting of the chamber will be Secretary Bryan, who will discuss American investments abroad.

The administration view of the pending shipping bill will be given by Secretary McAdoo, while Senator Burton of Ohio will present the opposition view.

Secretary Redfield will speak on the development of foreign commerce.

Very Clever.

They tell a story in London of a certain peer who had never before shown the slightest interest in horse racing that he surprised a young man of his acquaintance by asking him apropos of nothing which horse had won the Derby. The young man told him. "That was very clever on him," replied the peer. "Was it the first time he tried it?" The young man stammered, but said "Yes." "Then I call it very clever of him," replied the noble but incomplete sportsman, "to win the Derby the first time he tried for it."

A Floral Kidnap.

A shameless floral kidnaper is the Jack-in-the-pulpit. His beautiful pulpit has a slippery, treacherous lining. When gnats and other small insects enter in search of shelter and food they slide easily to the bottom, whence escape is impossible. Here at the bottom of the pulpit may be found the corpses of many wanderers, all kidnaped by the Rev. Jack.

The pitcher plant is another kidnaper, but in its case it is the leaves that are guilty.

MONDAY, JANUARY 25, 1915

The supreme court has held that a white man can inherit land allotted to his Indian wife, a decision having been made in the case of a white man to a Creek squaw.

Duluth plans on spending $9,000 for oil for street sprinkling during the season of 1915, the commissioner of public works having set this figure in his estimate of expenses. That city expends $30,000 a year on its street sprinkling, oil and water.

The cities that have felt the shrinkage in revenue by the enforcement of the treaty are planning on cutting down expenses and economizing in city affairs. Bemidji is one of them and it is expected a saving of $3,000 annually can be made by reductions in salaries and dispensing with some of the persons on the city pay roll.

Detroit's municipal election on Feb. 6th promises to be a very tame affair on account of the elimination of the liquor question, the government having closed the saloons there according to the provisions of the Indian treaty which takes the question of wet or dry away from the voters, and it has been the scene of many a fierce battle over that question.

The receipts of the Fargo postoffice will be swelled by the mailing of eighty car loads of catalogues from mail order houses during the spring months. These price list books are sent out by freight and are handled by a local agent there at a considerable saving in expense, and it is made necessary by the refusal of the newspapers there to accept advertising from catalogue houses. The local merchants in return advertise extensively in the Fargo papers and are enabled to meet the prices offered, everything considered. Eighty car loads of catalogues should carry the news to almost every buying locality in North Dakota, but that quantity is vouchsafed for by an item in a reliable newspaper.

Checks Croup Instantly

You know croup is dangerous. And you ought to know too, the sense of security that comes from having Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house. COLORED PUPIL
IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Judge W. S. McClenahan, of District Court, Holds Marry C. Marshall Remediless

IN SUIT AGAINST OFFICERS

Civil Rights Statutes are Specific and Do Not Aim to Dictate to Schools or Churches

Holding the plaintiff Marry C. Marshall, of Aitkin, a colored girl 16 years of age, remediless, in her suit brought against A. L. Richardson, J. M. Tucker, Frances Osterhout and Myrtle Tucker, wherein she charged she was discriminated against while attending Sunday school, claiming she was forced to either sit separate and apart from the white members of such school, or to leave it and the building, Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, has handed down a memorandum wherein he considers the Civil Rights Statutes as they apply to Sunday schools or churches.

Judge McClenahan said: "I think it may be confidently stated that no legislative body has ever specifically included churches, religious societies, or kindred institutions in the so-called Civil Rights Acts. This is not surprising, in view of the peculiar nature of such bodies. For the legislature, or the courts, to undertake to dictate how they shall conduct their internal affairs—the more intimate details of their organization—would meet with just resentment on the part of those affected, and would be of doubtful legality on constitutional grounds.

"The places to which Civil Rights Statutes have been specifically applied are public conveyances upon land and water, hotels, inns, taverns, restaurants, eating houses, chop houses, lunch counters, soda fountains, ice cream parlors, barber shops, saloons, bath houses, theatres, music halls, places of business, for which a license is required, public meetings, etc., such places being, almost without exception, places of business designed for profit and of a public or quasi-public character.

"It needs no argument to demonstrate that public conveyances, theatres, hotels, barber shops, saloons and restaurants, the places specifically enumerated in the present Minnesota statute, are not places of the same kind or species as a Sunday school, so that, under the rule adopted in the Minnesota case of Rhine vs. Loomis, supra, the plaintiff is not within the statute.

"But for the ejusdem generis rule, a Sunday school might have been considered within the old statute as a place of instruction, but no such claim can be made under the present law, since places of instruction are not now within the act. It was not suggested on the argument of the order to show cause that a Sunday school is a place either of amusement, refreshment or entertainment, but it was contended that it is a place of accommodation.

"If true, this would avail the plaintiff nothing, since it could not seriously be claimed that a Sunday school is a place of accommodation of the same kind or species as public conveyances, theatres, hotels, barber shops, saloons, or restaurants, but waiving that, is it a place of accommodation in any sense? It seems clear to me that it is not."

Gore, G. P. A. Morgan had occasion recently to use a liver medicine and says of Foley Cathartic Tablets: "They thoroughly cleansed my system and I felt like a new man—light and free. They are the best medicine I have ever taken for constipation. They keep the stomach sweet, liver active, bowels regular." H. P. Dunn.—Advt.

TROOP LIFE IN SAN DIEGO CAMP

Corporal A. C. Falconer, Troop M., First Cavalry, Writes to His Sister in Brainerd

CAVALRY MAKES A NIGHT HIKE

Troopers Were Twelve Hours Fifteen Minutes in Saddle With Only Five Minute Rest

Corporal A. C. Falconer, of Troop M., 1st Cavalry, stationed at San Diego, Cal., in a letter to his sister, Miss Hannah Falconer, of this city, writes entertainingly of camp life. He says: "We made a night hike of it from Tecate into San Diego and you can take it from Albert C. that it sure was the fiercest short hike that your truly has ever indulged in—twelve hours and fifteen minutes in the saddle with only one five minute rest.

It rained all the time and dark! Say, you could have cut chunks of solid ebony out of the atmosphere. We arrived here about a half hour after sun-up on the morning of Dec. 23 and it certainly was a dreary looking prospect that confronted us when we got here.

The only really cheerful part of the picture was the sight of the Exposition buildings just across the ravine from our camp. And ever since we unsaddled on the morning of the 23rd we have been continually on the jump, laying out tent floors, building kitchens, building stables, grading roads through the camp, clearing brush off the drill grounds, digging ditches in the hardest hard pan that ever was for laying pipe lines and ever now and then laying down our picks and shovels to go and saddle up and turn out for some parade or escort duty.

But our camp is fast assuming the proportions of a model camp in every respect. We have the new model pyramid tents with only five men in a tent. Each tent has a board floor, an electric light and an upright locker for our clothes. Cigarette butts, matches and bits of paper are tabooed from the troop streets, in fact everything about the camp is as neat and nifty as the spar deck of a battle ship and we will soon have running water all through the camp. Just a couple of weeks ago this place was nothing but a 'dobe hill covered with sage brush. Can you beat it.

In spite of what the newspapers say about the Exposition they are not doing the business they expected to do. And it seems a shame too, because they really have got a fine exposition. Millions of dollars have been spent putting up the show."

Voting In Spain.

Voting in Spain is held to be a duty to the community, not merely a privilege of the individual, and neglect of civic obligations carries its own penalty. Male adults of legal age and under seventy, with the exception of priests, notaries and judges, are required to vote in municipal elections. Failure to cast a ballot is punishable by having one's name published as censure for neglect, by having taxes increased 2 per cent, by suffering a deduction of 1 per cent in salary if employed in the public service and for the second offense the loss of right to hold elective or appointive office.—Exchange.

Had to Be Amused.

Some time ago a young married woman, accompanied by her two-year-old boy, visited the home of her parents, and in just two days the youngster was in full possession of everything around the house except the shotgun and the cayenne pepper box.

"Bessie dear," appealingly remarked the young married woman one afternoon, addressing her sister, "is your prayer book downstairs?"
"Why, yes," answered Bessie wondering. "What do you want it for?"

Improved the Opportunity.

The Empress Eugenie had long entertained Napoleon III. to confer upon Rosa Bonheur the cross of the Legion of Honor. He had refused because he did not wish to found a precedent for bestowing it upon a woman. Being called across the border into Spain, Napoleon made Eugenie regent in his absence, and she, with woman wit, took advantage of her authority to confer the honor upon the great artist. Napoleon laughed on hearing his wife's confession, but the act stood.

THE ADVISORY BOARD TO MEET

Board of Chamber of Commerce Holds First Meeting of the Year at 7:30 Tonight

ARE TO ELECT A SECRETARY

Regular Meeting of the Chamber on Wednesday Evening—Year Book Soon from Press

The first meeting of the year of the advisory board of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 this evening. It is expected that a majority of the 27 members of the board will respond as matters of importance are to be discussed and acted on, among others being the employment of a secretary for the coming year.

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held on Wednesday evening, January 27. Plans have been laid to welcome a large crowd, as the meetings in the past have led the officers to believe that the interest of the members is growing in the work of the organization, and that this is also true of the social features.

Beginning February 1 a monthly bulletin will be issued by the Chamber and a copy mailed each member and prospective member, outlining the work accomplished in the past 30 days. It will be maintained through ads from members and each will be given an opportunity to purchase space.

The year book of the Chamber of Commerce will be off the press this week and a copy will be mailed to each member which will give the year's work, the financial statement, incorporation and by laws, also a complete list of the present membership and committees and a synopsis of committee reports.

The Pig In Water.

Of pigs it is commonly reported that so queerly fashioned are they that if they attempt to swim they cut their throats with their fore feet, but this is only an old wife's fable. Whether wild or tame, they are all good swimmers, though, owing to the shortness of their legs, they just touch their throats with their fore feet and beat the water very high. Many of the islands of the southern seas are now inhabited by wild pigs, which are the descendants of those which have swum ashore from wrecked vessels.—Pearson's Weekly.

BODY WILL HEAR WILSON

Chamber of Commerce Sets Aside Special Session Feb. 3.

Washington, Jan. 25.—A special business session has been set aside by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for President Wilson's address the evening of Feb. 3.

The first of the three members of the cabinet who are to address the annual meeting of the chamber will be Secretary Bryan, who will discuss American investments abroad.

The administration view of the pending shipping bill will be given by Secretary McAdoo, while Senator Burton of Ohio will present the opposition view.

Secretary Redfield will speak on the development of foreign commerce.

Very Clever.

They tell a story in London of a certain peer who had never before shown the slightest interest in horse racing that he surprised a young man of his acquaintance by asking him apropos of nothing which horse had won the Derby. The young man told him. "That was very clever on him," replied the peer. "Was it the first time he tried it?" The young man stared, but said "Yes." "Then I call it very clever of him," replied the noble but incomplete sportsman, "to win the Derby the first time he tried for it."

A Floral Kidnaper.

A shameless floral kidnaper is the Jack-in-the-pulpit. His beautiful pulpit has a slippery, treacherous lining. When gnats and other small insects enter in search of shelter and food they slide easily to the bottom, whence escape is impossible. Here at the bottom of the pulpit may be found the corpses of many wanderers, all kidnaped by the Rev. Jack.

The pitcher plant is another kidnaper, but in its case it is the leaves that are guilty.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Armour No. 1 and Armour No. 2 Mines to be Operated by the Inland Steel Company

BRAINERD-CUYUNA AT LEDGE

City Acquires Title to the Holland Lands in Brainerd Bequeathed to it by Judge Holland

There have been placed on file at the register of deeds office in Crow Wing county lease and assignments of leases tending to support the report that the Inland Steel Company is to take over the Armour No. 1 and the Armour No. 2 mines. There has been recorded in mining lease dated February 11, 1911 from the Pine Tree Manufacturing Co. to the Iroquois Iron Co. covering the south half of the northwest quarter of section 11, township 46, range 29, the lease being for 30 years with 50 cents a ton royalty. The minimum tonnage is 25,000 tons the first year, 50,000 the second year, 150,000 tons the third and every year thereafter. There is also recorded the mining lease of the Interstate Exploration Co. to the Iroquois Iron Co. dated June 24, 1911 and covering the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 10, township 46, range 29, which is the Armour No. 1 mine. Assignments of leases are then made by the Iroquois Iron Co. to the Inland Steel Co. There has also been placed on file the release of the writ of attachment which Louis J. Hopkins and George C. Swallow, co-partners as Swallow & Hopkins, secured against the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 10, township 46, range 29 and the south half of the northwest quarter of section 11, township 46, range 29. The attachment was levied at the time Swallow & Hopkins brought suit for alleged failure to carry out an ore contract, alleging damages in the amount of $70,000. This is now cleared up by the recording of the release of the writ of attachment. On Wednesday night officials of the Inland Steel Co. and the Iroquois Iron Co. of Chicago, reached Crosby by special train. Thursday morning the officials met in the offices of the Rogers-Brown Ore Co., and it was announced that the Armour Nos. 1 and 2 mines had been purchased by the Inland Steel Co. As a result of the transaction the Rogers-Brown company will move its office and force to Cuyuna, where they will handle the business of the Kennedy mine, the only working property they have left on the Cuyuna range. It is expected the new owners will soon have the Armour properties working full capacity, which will improve business conditions greatly for Crosby and other range towns.

The Armour No. 1 mine, not worked for some time, has been drained of water down to the 200 foot level, the water being led into the Armour No. 2 and pumped out by that mine. This, in the opinion of many coupled also with the assignment of leases to the Inland Steel Co. seems to indicate that the Armour No. 1 mine, silent for some time, is to be worked this season.

At Ironton a feeling of hopefulness pervades and the people assume that the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and Cuyuna-Duluth mines of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co. will start operations on February 1. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co. will be held at Philadelphia on Monday, January 25.

The Armour No. 2 mine and the Kennedy mine are hoisting ore and accumulating stockpiles. These mines are the pioneer producers of the range. Considerable timber has been ordered and is being delivered at the mines to be used in the underground workings. The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. at Woodrow is drifting in ore and will be a shipper this season. The ore pockets of the head frame have been completed.

At the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd the three compartment timber shaft is five feet past ledge. Under the direction of D. C. Peacock as engineer and Capt. Andrew Johnson as superintendent the shaft was made a success and the stockholders are greatly pleased. Drifting will be in progress as soon as the required depth is reached. A spur of the Northern Pacific railway runs to the mine. It is believed that some shipping can be done this season.

At the county poor farm of Crow Wing county the E. J. Longyear company is completing a year's drilling in which time it put down eight holes, located quite an ore body in the south half of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 45, range 30. In the ninth hole the drill is still in surface, being 223 feet deep. The city of Brainerd has completed title to its lands conveyed to it by the late Judge G. W. Holland and efforts will be made to have the tracts located on the north side and southeast side of Brainerd explored. Mr. Harrington, of Virginia, has previously made the city an offer to explore with the option of a mining lease, but at that time the city did not have complete title.

The Rowe pit mine or the Pittsburg Steel Co. has added 15 men to its crew at the machine shop in Riverton. The Pennington pit mine is getting its machinery together. The Thompson pit mine anticipates opening up on March 1. The Hill Crest pit mine west of Ironton, it is reported, will open up its territory this spring. He forty has already been cleared of brush. The Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. is expected to develop its property near the Pennington, forming another pit mine. At the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Co. property work in shaft No. 2 has been suspended pending the report of the stripping engineers. The Sultana is claimed to control an exceptionally large body of manganese ore, the manganese content claimed to be considerably higher than that of some of the older mines on the range. Ore from the Sultana is claimed to be used in the manufacture of spiegel-eisen and a low grade of ferro-manganese. The European war having in great measure shut off the importation of ferro-manganese, more attention will be paid the manganese iron ores from the Cuyuna range. The future for ores suitable for the manufacture of low grade ferro is very bright indeed, as it is the opinion of a great many steel experts that this grade of material will entirely supplant the previously imported high grade ferro, the use of which, for the manufacture of manganese steel, not being essential, although the trade have, up to the discovery of the Cuyuna range manganese deposits, depended almost entirely on that product. The reason for this is easily explained by the fact that manganese commands a price many times that of iron, so that the saving in freight alone on an importation of this bulk would easily encourage the users of the high grade manganese ferro.

Drilling is increasing on the range. It is reported that the south range is to have seven new drills at work early in February. The C. W. Potts Exploration Co. will soon put on more drills. Tom Cole of Deerwood has two drills at work near Woodrow. The Adair Development Co. of Deerwood has a drill in section 22, township 45, range 30. The Adams interests have a drill in the southwest quarter of section 30, township 46, range 28 on the Adams mine property.

Moe Brothers, of Virginia, Thomas and Martin Moe, have put in a drill at Klondyke and it is reported they will soon have a battery of two at work. By February 1 seven new drills will be on the range, is the report current at Deerwood. The Adams interests have a drill in the southwest quarter of section 30, township 46, range 28 on the Adams mine property.

The Barrows Mining Company hole No. 9-A was stopped at 180 feet. The ore was struck at 105 feet. The drill will be moved 30 feet northwest from this hole and at this point hole No. 10 A will be started. A deep hole will be put down so as to determine the depth of the ore body.

The Brainerd Mining Company drilling is continuing on both of their properties. Their land in section 15 is undoubtedly a continuation of the Barrows Mining company's ore body as drill holes on both properties have been placed not far from the line and they are in ore. The Barrows-Mississippi Iron company is still drilling in the eleventh hole. The surface drilling has been very slow on account of boulders and other hard material to go through and at the last report they were down 120 feet in this hole. C. B. Buckman, of Little Falls has an eighty near Barrows believed to be rich in mineral.

The Immigration Land Co. has quit-claimed to Wm. T. Ten Brook for $220 the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 33, township 46, range 28. Arthur H. Burg has conveyed to Anna R. Speelman an undivided thirty-second interest in lot 2, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter and the north half of the southwest quarter of section 9, township 136, range 25.

Roger Hill, of Saginaw, Mich., owner of the Hill Crest mining property, has contracted with the Cuyuna Range Power company for electric current to be used in the stripping operations. Water will be taken from Blackhoof lake near by and the hydraulic system, similar to that of the Rowe mine, employed. Work will begin March 1, work being directed by Wilbur Van Evera, of Virginia. About 250 horsepower will be used to pump the water from the lake to the mine and 300 horsepower to pump the sand and water back. About forty acres of the Hill Crest mine have been cleared, a garage and office building erected and work will soon start on a blacksmith shop.

Cole & McDonald and Jamison & Peacock are drilling near Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. lands in section 7 and 8, township 45, range 29. R. K. Whiteley owns 80 acres in the north half of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 45, range 30. The Walker estate of Brainerd owns the south half of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 45, range 29 and the same is said to have been leased to the E. J. Longyear company.

The Aitkin county farm will be drilled for iron ore. The county board has let a contract to W. D. Edson to put a drill on the farm not later than February 15. The property will be taken over on a royalty basis with 5,000 tons the first year, 7,500 tons the second and 10,000 tons per year thereafter. The price is to be not less than 20 cents per ton, and one-half of all over 25 cents that Edson is able to obtain. Considerable drilling has been done in that vicinity and drills have also explored the county poor farm.

The Iron Trade Review says that developments in the iron trade lack definiteness and for that reason are somewhat disappointing for certainly the hopes of decided improvement after the holiday and inventory seasons have not been realized, but tendencies are for the most part in the right direction. In the case of some products, such as steel bars, the demand is far ahead of November and equal to that of December.

The Lake Shore Railroad has contracted for an unusually large tonnage of bar iron for the first half of the year, but as a rule, orders of any kind placed by the railroads are far from being on a liberal scale. The Pennsylvania will award trial lots of steel rails under the old and proposed specifications to a number of mills and the results will determine how the year's requirements of 170,000 tons will be placed. The Santa Fe railroad has placed an order for 3,000 cars. Demand for malleable pig iron shows some improvement at Chicago. The structural market is very dull at the present time.

WHAT'S INDIGESTION? WHO CARES? LISTEN!

'Pape's Diapepsin' makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine In five minutes

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

Albanian Aphorisms.
The Albanians have plenty of mother wit in addition to a certain amount of cynicism. Among their popular sayings are the following:

"The dog does not wag his tail at you, but at your bread."
"Don't measure your happiness with some one else's yardstick."
"Even the wolf is honest when the sheep are locked up."
"He who sows thistles must not go barefoot."
"When the wolf preaches one must keep a lookout over one's sheep."
"If the stone falls into the bowl it is bad for the bowl. If the bowl falls on the stone it is bad for the bowl."

Twenty-one Years' Siege.
Crete endured the longest siege on record, beside which Troy's ten years seem but a skirmish. In 1648 the Turks, attempting to conquer the island, laid siege to the capital city of Candia, which, however, did not surrender until September, 1669, after twenty-one years. Again in 1821, when the Cretans revolted, the defeated Turks were able to hold the fortified cities against all attacks, and many of them were still uncaptured when the powers intervened nine years later.

Those Queer Girls.
He—When you accepted Mr. Muchgold did you mention our engagement to him?
She—Of course not. We promised each other to keep it secret, didn't we? —Chicago Tribune.

The Final Precaution.
"You treated the accusations with silent contempt, of course?"
"I did."
"And then with haughty indifference?"
"Yes."
"Then you laughed them to scorn?"
"Certainly."
"And finally repelled them with just indignation?"
"Exactly."
"Then you'd better see a good criminal lawyer next." —Philadelphia Ledger.

EXTRA SESSION MAY BE NEEDED

Too Much Legislation to Get Through Before March 4.

NIGHT SESSIONS ARE NEEDED

Debate on Appropriation Bills Will Have to Be Cut Short—Failure to Pass Some Kind of Rural Credit Measure Provokes Criticism—Dupre's Speech Will Never Be Heard.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—There is either going to be an extra session or there is going to be one of the most tremendous jams ever known in legislation. All the business yet remaining must be put through in less than six weeks. Even if the Sundays were utilized that would be only about forty days, and it is not likely that Sunday sessions will be held. Many night sessions will be necessary if the appropriation bills are passed.

Calls It a Conservative Bill.

Senator Ransdell of Louisiana, president of the Rivers and Harbors Congress and a man who has taken active interest in all river and harbor legislation, says that the present river and harbor measure is a conservative measure and expresses the belief that it will be passed. No one has yet heard from Burton of Ohio and Keyson of Iowa, two men who talked the big river and harbor bill to death last year.

Harping on Rural Credits.

The present session of congress will not be allowed to expire without frequent reference to the failure to pass a rural credits bill. Many members of the senate have taken upon themselves to point out that the failure to pass this legislation will do the farmer a great injustice.

Dupre Wanted to Talk.

Congressman Dupre of Louisiana wanted to make a speech on the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, which a great many people think is Andrew Jackson's birthday. Leader Underwood was objecting to the use of the time, owing to the crowded condition of business, and Dupre said, "I suggest to the gentleman that neither he nor I will be here for the two hundredth anniversary of the battle of New Orleans." A little later, still arguing for time, he said, "I do not bother the house often with my mellifluous diction or eloquent language." But he did not get the time.

Martyrs of Duty.

In view of the impossibilities of passing certain legislation we must hand it to certain senators as martyrs of duty. Take Chairman Hitchcock and most of the members of the Philippine committee of the senate, for instance. They are working hard on the Jones bill, which nobody ever believed had the least possible chance of passing at this session of congress.

Over on the house side it is observed that Congressman McKellar of Tennessee says something from time to time about the cold storage bill. This as well as a number of other measures might just as well go into cold storage for the session.

Townsend the Persistent.

Senator Townsend of Michigan is losing no opportunity to get action upon the bill placing volunteer officers of the civil war upon the retired list. He has even gone to the extent of opposing many other measures in order to get preferential action on this bill, but he must know that the possibility of its passing is slight.

A Suggestion to Steenerson.

Congressman Fitzgerald was trying to get the house to agree to meet at 11 o'clock in the morning when a bill was under consideration, and Congressman Steenerson of Minnesota had charge for the minority.

"It is pretty hard for me to get here at 11 o'clock," said the Minnesota man. "I want to take my usual six mile walk in the morning."
"I suggest to the gentleman that he get up an hour earlier and walk seven miles," sarcastically remarked Congressman Fitzgerald, who did not believe that a man's daily walk should interfere with the business of congress.

Called Him a Farmer.

Congressman Prouty of Iowa made a funny speech in the house in retorting to an interview of Congressman Moore in the papers, in which there was an intimation that Prouty was a farmer. "Undoubtedly," Prouty told the house, "when he was wanting for a name that he could apply to me he thought of the meanest thing that he could command. He did not call me a liar or a thief or a fool or anything of that kind. He thought those too mild. He said to himself, 'I will just brand him as a "farmer," a "Reuben" from the far west.'"

"Getting $1.00 for wheat," interjected Murdock of Kansas.

"I wish," said Prouty, "that there were more farmers in this house and fewer bouquet chasers."

Not Mongolians.

Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, has issued a bulletin showing that the Indians of America are not Mongolians. He officially designates them as redmen. The word Indian is a misnomer, as they are no part or parcel of the Hindu race, which are the real Indians.

Killikinkick.

"We ran out of tobacco while fishing in the Canadian wilds," said a clubman. "Our guides put us on to killikinkick, and we smoked that for ten days. It wasn't bad."

"Killikinkick is the inner bark of the red willow. You dry it; then you cut it up. It really tastes like tobacco. The Indians always use it when they can't get the real thing, and I understand that there are certain brands of Canadian tobacco that are flavored with killikinkick."—Washington Times.

JAPANESE COURT TRIALS.

The Judges, Not the Lawyers, Question the Witnesses.

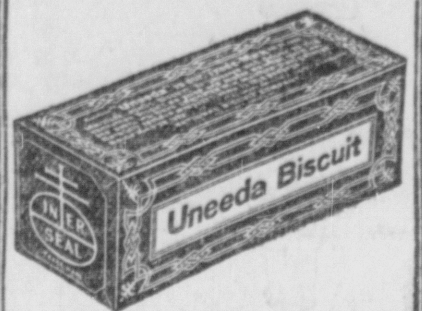

The defendant in a Japanese court was testifying in his own behalf. He stood directly in front of the presiding judge, not ten feet distant from him, and answered his questions in a clear voice, without any apparent hesitation. The judge seemed conversant with the case, for he put questions rapidly, giving a funny little grunt of acquiescence after every answer. Occasionally one of the associates wrote a suggestion and handed it to the president, and once or twice the defendant's counsel asked the court to put a certain inquiry. The whole proceeding—and the same may be said of those in several other courts I visited—was conducted in a quiet, colloquial way. In every instance I was impressed with the simple, businesslike atmosphere.

Some of the Japanese lawyers with whom I have talked say that they feel that very often the court does not elicit all the facts and that our system of having witnesses questioned by counsel would be better, but, on the other hand, some lawyers maintain that better results are realized by the system, which puts upon the court the duty of getting at the truth, maintaining that the witnesses are more apt to talk frankly to the court than to the lawyer for the opposite side who is engaged, as they think, in trying to make them out liars.

I came away quite favorably impressed with what I saw and wondering whether on the whole in 95 per cent of the cases a decision by three judges trained in the investigation of facts would not be as nearly right as the verdict of twelve citizens casually gathered in from the general community.—George W. Wickersham in Case and Comment.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Armour No. 1 and Armour No. 2 Mines to be Operated by the Inland Steel Company

BRAINERD-CUYUNA AT LEDGE

City Acquires Title to the Holland Lands in Brainerd Bequeathed to it by Judge Holland

There have been placed on file at the register of deeds office in Crow Wing county lease and assignments of leases tending to support the report that the Inland Steel Company is to take over the Armour No. 1 and the Armour No. 2 mines. There has been recorded in mining lease dated February 11, 1911 from the Pine Tree Manufacturing Co. to the Ironsquo Iron Co. covering the south half of the northwest quarter of section 11, township 46, range 29, the lease being for 30 years with 50 cents a ton royalty. The minimum tonnage is 25,000 tons the first year, 50,000 the second year, 150,000 tons the third and every year thereafter. There is also recorded the mining lease of the Interstate Exploration Co. to the Ironsquo Iron Co. dated June 24, 1911, and covering the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 10, township 46, range 29, which is the Armour No. 1 mine. Assignments of leases are then made by the Ironsquo Iron Co. to the Inland Steel Co. There has also been placed on file the release of the writ of attachment which Louis J. Hopkins and George C. Swallow, co-partners as Swallow & Hopkins, secured against the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 10, township 46, range 29 and the south half of the northwest quarter of section 11, township 46, range 29. The attachment was levied at the time Swallow & Hopkins brought suit for alleged failure to carry out an ore contract, alleging damages in the amount of $70,000. This is now cleared up by the recording of the release of the writ of attachment. On Wednesday night officials of the Inland Steel Co. and the Ironsquo Iron Co. of Chicago, reached Crosby by special train. Thursday morning the officials met in the offices of the Rogers-Brown Ore Co., and it was announced that the Armour Nos. 1 and 2 mines had been purchased by the Inland Steel Co. As a result of the transaction the Rogers-Brown company will move its office and force to Cuyuna, where they will handle the business of the Kennedy mine, the only working property they have left on the Cuyuna range. It is expected the new owners will soon have the Armour properties working full capacity, which will improve business conditions greatly for Crosby and other range towns.

The Armour No. 1 mine, not worked for some time, has been drained of water down to the 200 foot level, the water being led into the Armour No. 2 and pumped out by that mine. This, in the opinion of many coupled also with the assignment of leases to the Inland Steel Co. seems to indicate that the Armour No. 1 mine, silent for some time, is to be worked this season.

At Ironton a feeling of hopefulness pervades and the people assume that the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and Cuyuna-Duluth mines of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co. will start operations on February 1. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co. will be held at Philadelphia on Monday, January 25.

The Armour No. 2 mine and the Kennedy mine are hoisting ore and accumulating stockpiles. These mines are the pioneer producers of the range. Considerable timber has been ordered and is being delivered at the mines to be used in the underground workings. The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. at Woodrow is drifting in ore and will be a shipper this season. The ore pockets of the head frame have been completed.

At the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd the three compartment timber shaft is five feet past ledge. Under the direction of D. C. Peacock as engineer and Capt. Andrew Johnson as superintendent the shaft was made a success and the stockholders are greatly pleased. Drifting will be in progress as soon as the required depth is reached. A spur of the Northern Pacific railway runs to the mine. It is believed that some shipping can be done this season.

At the county poor farm of Crow Wing county the E. J. Longyear company is completing a year's drilling in which time it put down eight holes, located quite an ore body in the south half of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 45, range 30. In the ninth hole the drill is still in surface, being 223 feet deep. The city of Brainerd has completed title to its lands conveyed to it by the late Judge G. W. Holland and efforts will be made to have the tracts located on the north side and southeast side of Brainerd explored. Mr. Harrington, of Virginia, has previously made the city an offer to explore with the option of a mining lease, but at that time the city did not have complete title.

The Rowe pit mine of the Pittsburgh Steel Co. has added 15 men to its crew at the machine shop in Riverton. The Pennington pit mine is getting its machinery together. The Thompson pit mine anticipates opening up on March 1. The Hill Crest pit mine west of Ironton, it is reported, will open up its territory this spring, he forty has already been cleared of brush. The Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. is expected to develop its property near the Pennington, forming another pit mine. At the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Co. property work in shaft No. 2 has been suspended pending the report of the stripping engineers. The Sultana is claimed to control an exceptionally large body of manganese ore, the manganese content claimed to be considerably higher than that of some of the older mines on the range. Ore from the Sultana it is claimed can be used in the manufacture of spiegel-elsen and a low grade of ferro-manganese. The European war having in great measure shut off the importation of ferro-manganese, more attention will be paid the manganese iron ores from the Cuyuna range. The future for ores suitable for the manufacture of low grade ferro is very bright indeed, as it is the opinion of a great many steel experts that this grade of material will entirely supplant the previously imported high grade ferro, the use of which, for the manufacture of manganese steel, not being essential, although the trade have, up to the discovery of the Cuyuna range manganese deposits, depended almost entirely on that product. The reason for this is easily explained by the fact that manganese commands a price many times that of iron, so that the saving in freight alone on an importation of this bulk would easily encourage the users of the high grade manganese ferro.

Drilling is increasing on the range. It is reported that the south range is to have seven new drills at work early in February. The C. W. Potts Exploration Co. will soon put on more drills. Tom Cole of Deerwood has two drills at work near Woodrow. The Adair Development Co. of Deerwood has a drill in section 22, township 45, range 30. The Adams interests have a drill in the southwest quarter of section 30, township 46, range 28 on the Adams mine property.

The Barrows Mining Company hole No. 9-A was stopped at 180 feet. The ore was struck at 105 feet. The drill will be moved 30 feet northwest from this hole and at this point hole No. 10 A will be started. A deep hole will be put down so as to determine the depth of the ore body.

The Brainerd Mining Company drilling is continuing on both of their properties. Their land in section 15 is undoubtedly a continuation of the Barrows Mining company's ore body as drill holes on both properties have been placed not far from the line and they are in ore. The Barrows-Mississippi Iron company is still drilling in the eleventh hole. The surface drilling has been very slow on account of boulders and other hard material to go through and at the last report they were down 120 feet in this hole. C. B. Buckman, of Little Falls has an eighty near Barrows believed to be rich in mineral.

The Immigration Land Co. has quit-claimed to Wm. T. Ten Brook for $220 the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 33, township 46, range 28. Arthur H. Burg has conveyed to Anna R. Speelman an undivided thirty-second interest in lot 2, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter and the north half of the southwest quarter of section 9, township 136, range 25.

Roger Hill, of Saginaw, Mich., owner of the Hill Crest mining property, has contracted with the Cuyuna Range Power company for electric current to be used in the stripping operations. Water will be taken from Blackhoof lake near by and the hydraulic system, similar to that of the Rowe mine, employed. Work will begin March 1, work being directed by Wilbur Van Evera, of Virginia. About 250 horsepower will be used to pump the water from the lake to the mine and 300 horsepower to pump the sand and water back. About forty acres of the Hill Crest mine have been cleared, a garage and office building erected and work will soon start on a blacksmith shop.

Cole & McDonald and Jamison & Peacock are drilling near Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. lands in section 7 and 8, township 45, range 29. R. K. Whiteley owns 80 acres in the north half of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 45, range 30. The Walker estate of Brainerd owns the south half of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 7, township 45, range 29 and the same is said to have been leased to the E. J. Longyear company.

The Aitkin county farm will be drilled for iron ore. The county board has let a contract to W. D. Edson to put a drill on the farm not later than February 15. The property will be taken over on a royalty basis with 5,000 tons the first year, 7,500 tons the second and 10,000 tons per year thereafter. The price is to be not less than 20 cents per ton, and one-half of all over 25 cents that Edson is able to obtain. Considerable drilling has been done in that vicinity and drills have also explored the county poor farm.

The Iron Trade Review says that developments in the iron trade lack definiteness and for that reason are somewhat disappointing for certainly the hopes of decided improvement after the holiday and inventory seasons have not been realized, but tendencies are for the most part in the right direction. In the case of some products, such as steel bars, the demand is far ahead of November and equal to that of December.

The Lake Shore railroad has contracted for an unusually large tonnage of bar iron for the first half of the year, but as a rule, orders of any kind placed by the railroads are far from being on a liberal scale. The Pennsylvania will award trial lots of steel rails under the old and proposed specifications to a number of mills and the results will determine how the year's requirements of 170,000 tons will be placed. The Santa Fe railroad has placed an order for 3,000 cars. Demand for malleable pig iron shows some improvement at Chicago. The structural market is very dull at the present time.

Albanian Aphorisms.
The Albanians have plenty of mother wit in addition to a certain amount of cynicism. Among their popular sayings are the following:

"The dog does not wag his tail at you, but at your bread."

"Don't measure your happiness with some one else's yardstick."

"Even the wolf is honest when the sheep are locked up."

"He who sows thistles must not go barefoot."

"When the wolf preaches one must keep a lookout over one's sheep."

"If the stone falls into the bowl it is bad for the bowl. If the bowl falls on the stone it is bad for the bowl."

Twenty-one Years' Siege.
Crete endured the longest siege on record, beside which Troy's ten years seem but a skirmish. In 1048 the Turks, attempting to conquer the island, laid siege to the capital city of Candia, which, however, did not surrender until September, 1669, after twenty-one years. Again in 1821, when the Cretans revolted, the defeated Turks were able to hold the fortified cities against all attacks, and many of them were still uncaptured when the powers intervened nine years later.

Those Queer Girls.
He—When you accepted Mr. Muchgold did you mention our engagement to him?
She—Of course not. We promised each other to keep it secret, didn't we?
—Chicago Tribune.

The Final Precaution.
"You treated the accusations with silent contempt, of course?"
"I did."

"And then with haughty indifference?"
"Yes."

"Then you laughed them to scorn?"
"Certainly."

"And finally repelled them with just indignation?"
"Exactly."

"Then you'd better see a good criminal lawyer next." — Philadelphia Ledger.

EXTRA SESSION MAY BE NEEDED

Too Much Legislation to Get Through Before March 4.

NIGHT SESSIONS ARE NEEDED

Debate on Appropriation Bills Will Have to Be Cut Short—Failure to Pass Some Kind of Rural Credit Measure Provokes Criticism—Dupre's Speech Will Never Be Heard.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—There is either going to be an extra session or there is going to be one of the most tremendous jams ever known in legislation. All the business yet remaining must be put through in less than six weeks. Even if the Sundays were utilized that would be only about forty days, and it is not likely that Sunday sessions will be held. Many night sessions will be necessary if the appropriation bills are passed.

Calls It a Conservative Bill.
Senator Ransdell of Louisiana, president of the Rivers and Harbors Congress and a man who has taken active interest in all river and harbor legislation, says that the present river and harbor measure is a conservative measure and expresses the belief that it will be passed. No one has yet heard from Burton of Ohio and Kenyon of Iowa, two men who talked the big river and harbor bill to death last year.

Harping on Rural Credits.
The present session of congress will not be allowed to expire without frequent reference to the failure to pass a rural credits bill. Many members of the senate have taken upon themselves to point out that the failure to pass this legislation will do the farmer a great injustice.

Dupre Wanted to Talk.
Congressman Dupre of Louisiana wanted to make a speech on the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, which a great many people think is Andrew Jackson's birthday. Leader Underwood was objecting to the use of the time, owing to the crowded condition of business, and Dupre said, "I suggest to the gentleman that neither he nor I will be here for the two hundredth anniversary of the battle of New Orleans." A little later, still arguing for time, he said, "I do not bother the house often with my mellifluous diction or eloquent language." But he did not get the time.

Martyrs of Duty.
In view of the impossibilities of passing certain legislation we must hand it to certain senators as martyrs of duty. Take Chairman Hitchcock and most of the members of the Philippine committee of the senate, for instance. They are working hard on the Jones bill, which nobody ever believed had the least possible chance of passing at this session of congress.

Over on the house side it is observed that Congressman McKellar of Tennessee says something from time to time about the cold storage bill. This as well as a number of other measures might just as well go into cold storage for the session.

Townsend the Persistent.
Senator Townsend of Michigan is losing no opportunity to get action upon the bill placing volunteer officers of the civil war upon the retired list. He has even gone to the extent of opposing many other measures in order to get preferential action on this bill, but he must know that the possibility of its passing is slight.

A Suggestion to Steenerson.
Congressman Fitzgerald was trying to get the house to agree to meet at 11 o'clock in the morning when a bill was under consideration, and Congressman Steenerson of Minnesota had charge for the minority.

"It is pretty hard for me to get here at 11 o'clock," said the Minnesota man. "I want to take my usual six mile walk in the morning."

"I suggest to the gentleman that he get up an hour earlier and walk seven miles," sarcastically remarked Congressman Fitzgerald, who did not believe that a man's daily walk should interfere with the business of congress.

Called Him a Farmer.
Congressman Prouty of Iowa made

a funny speech in the house in retorting to an interview of Congressman Moore in the papers, in which there was an intimation that Prouty was a farmer. "Undoubtedly," Prouty told the house, "when he was wanting for a name that he could apply to me he thought of the meanest thing that he could command. He did not call me a liar or a thief or a fool or anything of that kind. He thought those too mild. He said to himself, 'I will just brand him as a "farmer," a "Reuben" from the far west.'"

"Getting $1.00 for wheat," interjected Murdoch of Kansas.

"I wish," said Prouty, "that there were more farmers in this house and fewer bouquet chasers."

Not Mongolians.
Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, has issued a bulletin showing that the Indians of America are not Mongolians. He officially designates them as redmen. The word Indian is a misnomer, as they are no part or parcel of the Hindu race, which are the real Indians.

Killiknick.
"We ran out of tobacco while fishing in the Canadian wilds," said a clubman. "Our guides put us on to killiknick, and we smoked that for ten days. It wasn't bad."

"Killiknick is the inner bark of the red willow. You dry it; then you cut it up. It really tastes like tobacco. The Indians always use it when they can't get the real thing, and I understand that there are certain brands of Canadian tobacco that are flavored with killiknick."—Washington Times.
